

The right price. Right from the start.

No gimmicks, no games — just everyday low prices you can trust.

If the price doesn't feel right, neither will the home. That's why we offer everyday low pricing from the beginning – no inflated prices, no confusing incentives and no surprises later.

But it isn't just the price that makes a KB home a smart choice. It's everything that's included – right from the start. Like the opportunity to personalize your home, from floor plan and exterior style to design features and even where you live in the community. Plus, our thoughtfully designed homes include modern kitchens that open into spacious great rooms, expansive bedroom suites with walk-in closets, and generous storage.

With KB Home, you get more than the right price – you get a home that reflects your life today and supports your dreams for the future.
